Batteries Not Included

People that are into Paganism; Animism; Wicca; Earth goddess worship; Nature Worship; and so on, make many false claims. For example they say it is the 'oldest religion' much older than Christianity. Well, the fact is that although the name 'Christian' began to be used about 2,000 years ago, the religion was actually the continuation of the worship of the Creator God, the only real God.

Paganism came about as people who refused to obey and worship the true Creator, chose instead to 'do their own thing' under the guidance of the enemy of all good; Satan. Each thing that came into Pagan or Heathen worship was a counterfeit of something from the true worship of the Creator of the heavens and the earth.

Why do I entitle this message, "Batteries Not Included?" well you see, God does not give enabling power to those who refuse to walk according to His counsel. He only promises power if we are choosing to obey Him, completely. His power is given to bless and enable His children to live in the ways He has laid down for them. If God were to empower those who have refused His counsel and are rebelling against His precepts, it would make Him a party to sin. It would be like you lending your car to a bank-robber for his getaway.

You may ask, "Well, what about Matthew 5:45":

Matthew 5:45 "That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust."

Batteries not Included

The sun and the rain are part of what I refer to as 'Common Grace' which God gives to all which allows life to continue in hopes of some at least coming to a knowledge of truth and being born again. This does not include the special empowerment and saving grace that come only to those who have made that surrender and chosen to become His professed people. Also be aware that people who don't know something and have had no chance to know it, are not held accountable by God for it. However, this does not countenance persons deliberately choosing to remain ignorant when light is available to them.

God's professed people rarely turn away completely from light that they have to pursue total heathen darkness; what usually happens is collecting up ideas from paganism's practices and mixing them in with the light of truth. This was done over and over again in the history of the world and always resulted in disaster!

God's special power can no longer be supplied to anyone who has taken methodologies and theories from the world or heathenism and added them to our health message for example. Such a person no longer has the batteries of heaven; the power of God's blessing just won't be there! God has never authorized us to add to, or take away from, His counsel. If we do start practicing things He has not enjoined or neglecting things He has enjoined, He can't bless us; we cut off the Power lines completely.

"It's what you do not what you say"

Many look at eastern religions and say, "Now, there is real truth". They look at the teachings of the American Indians also and say, "Oh yes, that's the way to live. That is Natural." But they forget the most vital point. You must take a good look at how those people actually lived, because it is not what they Say that counts—it is what they Do that matters! If you study true history, you will see that although they may have had many exulted proverbs and 'great wisdom' in their traditions, (it sounds like great wisdom to us as human beings) it may sound good, But the batteries are not included; there is no power to live up to a creed that you make up yourself no matter how nice it sounds.

Man has no power in himself to do good; not at all; absolutely none! So no matter how exulted the teachings of Buddhism may sound, or the teachings of Hinduism, or Taoism, or Hare Krishna; —without God and without Christ there is no power in it to allow anyone to obey. You can profess the loftiest things, but there's no power to carry out your profession. So you will find that certain people, who have naturally very strong wills, excel in these religions. You see, some people do have a type of stubbornness and natural will-power, so that if they make up their mind to do something, they can live up to this externally at least—especially if by doing so they gain the admiration and acclaim of others as a kind of 'holy' person. You can find certain Yogis that seem to have, at least outwardly, will power to live a rigid, abstemious life through their own determination. (Sometimes though, they just put on a lying, false front as well.) Satan helps some of these by not tempting them too much, because to have them seeming to succeed in his lying service is bait to others and good for his business. They can thus appear 'godly' when there is really no godliness in them at all.

I've had people who studied and even believed in these religions say to me, "How can people who advocate such noble sounding truths as these eastern religions and the North American Indians yet be so hideously cruel?" The answer is there are no batteries included when you make up your own religion or follow one made up by some other human. There's no power in it; and man does not have power to do anything but obey Satan and exult himself. Man cannot change his own heart and so these external restrictions are always a heavy burden to bear, but they can at times put on the front for the sake of worldly honor.

It is important to realize that the heathen don't have a monopoly on this problem. Any time we try to practice religious tenets of our own choosing, God can't empower us, and the best we can ever become is a hypocrite just like the Pharisees! They refused to accept God's doctrines in the simplicity in which they were given and added their own rules to God's truths and embroidered them. So they pulled the plug on God's enabling power and a life of externals and lying hypocrisy was the best they could ever have. Only religion that comes from God can lead to God, and can be empowered by God!

Notice what happened in the days of Nehemiah:

Nehemiah 13:23 "In those days also saw I Jews that had married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab: 24 And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people."

We see another example in the scriptures where people didn't recognize the language anymore; Jesus came among men and what was He teaching? Many claim He had completely new, unheard of ideas. Some even go so far as to claim Jesus went to the East in His youth and brought His teachings back from there. But everything He taught was taken from their own scriptures! He had nothing new, but they had so far mixed in Greek philosophical error, added their own traditions and departed from Bible truth that they didn't even recognize their own scriptures any more. Jesus, through the enlightenment of the Spirit, stripped away the man-made additions and presented the pure scripture truth.

If you mix pure water with even a little muddy water, the result is muddy water. Whenever you mix the perfect word of God with any heathenism, the result is heathenism; it's not perfect anymore once it's mixed and it isn't the Word of God any more once it's mixed. The Jewish religion was mongrelized so badly they couldn't even understand simple Bible truths any more. Jesus cleared away the trash and when the disciples first went forth to carry the truth of Christianity to the world it was pure and so it was powerful; God could bless it.

Very early in the 'Christian' era, however, scholars coming in from Paganism began to think they could improve Christianity by combining the 'best' of their own 'higher education' with it and once again, a mongrel religion came about. God's power could no longer bless and before long the church took hold of the arm of the state to enforce its now powerless religion and the abomination of desolation, the papacy was born.

The health reform guidance that was given us by God is perfect. It could not be improved upon. In its purity and completeness it is powerful, and when practiced as given to us, according to God's instructions, it has the added power of His blessing. Nothing that the world or science so called, or Paganism or spiritualism has, can compare with the healing power of God's true, pure health reform!

This message seems so simple that many grossly underestimate its power and grab after the more complex theories of the world which are only spiritualism in a new, 'scientific' disguise and seek to add to it, or update it, or make it even better. The result is we lose its purity, and we lose God's blessing and power. Then Satan lures us on into his snares until we lose our souls as well. God's pure message has the Batteries included; God backs it up with omnipotent power, but just add man's theories to it, and His blessing vanishes as the morning mist.

There are many man made theories that may seem to really make sense but in the long run, they don't work. Also, every year you can see on the bookstore shelves the latest crop of 'self-help' books with their methods and programs. Friends if they really worked, there would be one and everyone would say, "Yes, that is it—it really works!" and there would be no need of any more. But they don't work in the long run and most don't even work in the short run. The batteries are not included.

There is one book that works and that is the Bible; it is still there and it doesn't go away. But if you were to start looking for a self-help book of ten or twenty years ago, you'd be most unlikely to find it except in the discount bin of the used book emporium. There's a new crop all the time. Why? Because they don't work! They sound good but they don't work, because like the pagan religions, there are no batteries included!

I want to tell you a little about my own experience in studying heathen philosophy and many 'self-improvement' theories, as well as the psychiatry and psychology I had to take to become a registered nurse. To become qualified in nursing psychology you have to study various theories that oft times contradict each other and you end up with a confused bunch of soup in your head that is supposed to help you to care for mentally ill persons.

One theory had its roots as one man decided to keep a careful diary of the development of one baby—his own son as he grew and developed. Then from this careful diary of one baby, he made his theory, which is now taught as the normal way for all babies to develop. People think it has been scientifically studied with thousands of children—but no, it was from one man's observations of one baby. Also, I am sure the constant watching and documenting by his father would have had an effect on the normality of the child as well; not to mention it must have driven his wife up the wall!

There are many other theories that have been foisted upon the world by so-called educated people that come out of fictional works made up by the mind of a man. You see when you write fiction, you can make anything work, but in real life it doesn't work as it is contrary to God's Universal Laws that govern how things really work. That, by the way, is why you'd better not read fiction, even so called 'good fiction' as you can be badly misled in your grasp of reality. Other theories, I have since learned, came directly through the person's contact and communication with evil spirits!

Having acquired the habit of reading fiction from childhood, I started my quest through the rubbish heaps of Satan's counterfeit wisdom, with the study of Yoga. Influence by the popular movie of the life of Gandhi, [largely fictionalized propaganda] I studied first his writings, then yoga theory and philosophy. Yoga, first used as a method to prepare Hindus for death, it is now popular as a road to 'incredible health and well being'. The principles of diet, morals, dress and exercise are similar to our health reform, but based on spiritualistic principles of universal energy.

I began to practice these things, and there are some health benefits in these things, [Satan has to put some good grain with his poison!] but as I later studied the Spirit of Prophecy counsel more deeply, I found it already had all the good points for me, with none of the occult, spiritualist baggage that Yoga attaches to these things. We already have all the good in the 'Eight Laws of Health', all Yoga adds is the evil, in the form of spiritualistic theory, self hypnosis, trancemeditation and devil worship. The ultimate end of Yoga is not super health, but rather demon possession and enslavement.

Buddhism, in the same way has a lot of 'good' philosophy and health advice and teaches you to sit around and meditate; you know, we are supposed to meditate, but not that way. We are not supposed to meditate by emptying the mind and opening it up to allow the devil to dump in it! We meditate by taking the Words of God and putting them into our mind, focusing our mind to understand, while asking for the Holy Spirit to teach us how these things are to become part of our lives. By doing this we think God's thoughts after Him and it lifts and recreates us. God's Word has great power to change us, as we think on it and lay it up in our hearts.

These false systems of religion have discipline and methods that one is supposed to use to lift one's own self up by one's own boot-laces, as it were. Many teach a series of steps that you seek to accomplish one at a time. Man can't change himself at all, but he thinks he can get around that, if he just breaks the change down to a series of baby-steps that he can work on one at a time. So people in these religions sadly wear away their lives, always hoping that if they try hard enough and long enough the big change will come and 'ye shall be as gods!' Oh; if you don't make it in this life, you have assurance that you'll be reincarnated to keep on trying. Again there are always some who are able to make a convincing display of accomplishment of the physical feats of these religions and so become known as 'Masters' or 'Gurus' and then teach others.

These things are such pitfalls and snares as they lead you on, always expecting that just around the next corner is the 'real breakthrough' and things will really change if you just hang in long enough. You do accomplish certain disciplines and improvements physically and you just 'know' you'll get the rest in time.

Self-help programs are like this too, you keep reaching out to that 'carrot on the stick' thinking 'this time I really have it', only to have it recede before you. You are ever learning, but never coming to the knowledge of the truth and when you get in deep enough, they teach you that there really isn't any such thing as solid truth anyway! So you float along in the devil's fogs and mists always hoping for something real but always finding it lies just around the corner, or just beyond the next level, or maybe you'll get it in the next self-help workshop seminar.

With the things of the Lord, there is solid, authoritative truth and even though one can go on learning forever and not exhaust the bounties of the Lord, as soon as you submit to Him you are given real solid evidence and have something to stand on that makes sense. "Taste and see that the Lord is good," God invites us, "Take of the water of life freely." When we have a "thus saith the Lord" then we know what the truth is, we don't have to suppose and wonder.

There is another thing that all these systems of eastern and related philosophies have in common—they all cultivate pride. Because as you progress in Buddhism, Taoism, martial arts, Yoga or such things you become more proud, self centered and detached from those around you. But they teach humility, you may say, but it is an external type of 'wearing of sackcloth' put on to disguise the pride within.

The incredible 'powers' that some of these 'gurus' develop, are all from the power of the devil, but they think it is from themselves. Now there are things that one can naturally develop, such as skill, dexterousness, agility, strength, balance, technique, but exactly where your ability leaves off and demonic assistance begins, is not really discernable. When you find out that you have paranormal or supernatural powers in some line then you are really proud. You feel your mind is superior to others and so highly developed and all that. Wow! What I can do!

Batteries not Included

The more you are able to accomplish in your own strength, the more proud and disdainful you become. That pride is a great barrier to really accepting the Lord, because you think you know certain things, and you can do certain things, and you have certain 'powers' within you and all these things bordering on spiritualism, make it hard to totally die to self and bow as a penitent at Jesus feet, admitting your hopeless lost-ness.

Satan leads you on, giving you just enough success to keep you wanting more; but remember, he can't give you total success, real victory, because he doesn't even have it to give you. Only God can give you that. All Satan can really give you are novelties and parlor tricks; they are unreal and largely meaningless performances. The only real thing he has to give you is eternal death!

He specializes in feelings and illusions; this is Satan's realm, making something appear real when it really isn't. He uses such things so much in these religions of yoga, martial arts and meditation because their practices allow him to give you impressions and feelings to tantalize you and lead you into his traps. So please realize that we must never have a religion that is based on feelings and impressions.

During the time I was studying eastern philosophies, I was a postulant and later a novice in an order called the 'Jahalda Knights', studying to become a leader in the group. There were books that we were encouraged to read which put forward the theories we were practicing. One book—and I won't give you the name of it in case someone would be curious and go looking for it or something, I don't want to promote it—but it was putting forth the spiritual side of martial arts. It went the round of those of us who were studying for the leadership of the Jahalda Knights. My immediate teacher over me, my Sifu, read it, and was greatly impressed with it and passed it to me and said, "Here, read this book!" So I read it; it was a medium-sized book and I read it from cover to cover and I have to tell you it was the most fascinating book I ever read! It was amazing! I thought it was a wonderful book. I said, "This is so enlightening; this is so wonderful; I really love this book!"

Later I returned it to my teacher and said, "I read this book right through and this is really a good book; it's a wonderful book!" Well for some reason or other, he didn't know why, but I know why now—God had His hand in something there; he turned around and handed me back the book and said, "Well, if it is that good, don't just read it once, read it again!"

So I took it and said, "I will, I will read it again." I'll tell you how I know it was God who interposed there, because afterwards my teacher seemed so annoyed both with me and with himself; he said, "Do you have to do everything I tell you? Can't you think for yourself?" or something like this, but I said, "No, I will read it again." You know, we have no idea the spiritual battle that rages around us! Satan knew God was going to interpose and he was mad.

I didn't ask for God's blessing; I didn't ask Him to show me if this thing was true or not. I didn't take it to the Word of God and test it to see if it was truth; at that time, it didn't cross my mind. But our Lord is merciful beyond anything we can imagine, really! And He was gracious and merciful to me, who was deliberately seeking after things that I knew better than to seek after. God sent His Spirit and angels to be with me the second time I read that book. I didn't ask for this help, but I am so grateful to Him for this and I have thanked Him many times. He stopped the hypnotic spell of Satan and when I read it again, I never read such a pack of rubbish in my life. It was the same book! I had only read it two days before and thought it so wonderful. It was just a bunch of fabricated rubbish from cover to cover. There was no good in it, just stupidity, Disgusting! Why didn't I see it the first time? Satan was influencing me and God stopped him and let me see the truth.

When I read it the first time, one of the things it talked about was this experience they call 'enlightenment'. Now if you hang around 'New Age' people very much, you will hear a lot about enlightenment. It is supposed to be that all of a sudden when you are meditating or practicing, you get this experience where everything seems more real to you and more plain and clear and it's like light flooding into your mind. I will tell you that that kind of 'enlightenment' comes from Lucifer, the fallen light-bearer; he specializes in that kind of experience. You can hear or read something and feel that it is so wonderful, something that you feel has unlocked a whole new world to you and opened up your understanding like never before, and it is nothing but a feeling having no basis in reality at all! It is a hypnosis kind of a thing he uses and you can feel nothing has ever been so precious in your whole life.

I experienced this trick. I can still remember feeling this way after I first read that book. As I left my apartment that day to go to work, everything seemed so bright, and so wonderfully new and beautiful, so different, so much more real, and I had this feeling of enlightenment. It was all so incredible, but it doesn't last, friends, it doesn't last. In fact when it fades, you usually end up in discouragement and darkness afterwards because Satan and his nasty bunch have more things to do than to sit around and make you feel good all day, because he really hates you with a passion, because you belong to Jesus. It's nothing personal; he just hates you and delights to destroy you so as to hurt Jesus. But he gives people these sweet experiences to lead them to seek more as they think there must be real truth in this because of what they saw or felt. The 'Master' of the order based all his confidence in a hallucination or dream he had in meditation one time, where he saw supernatural beings he thought were angels (if anything they were fallen angels), who told him to start this order.

Many people are given an experience when they first come into occult territory. They may visit a psychic-type therapist and receive a treatment and find it makes them feel sooo good! Then they really believe in it and come back again and again. Seldom is there any lasting health benefit, but the good feeling keeps them returning and spending their money. Often they choose to take classes and begin to practice the therapy they have chosen. They also accept the spiritualistic explanation of the therapy as true.

Many times when a person first visits a psychic, he is told, "You don't realize it, but you have a rare gift, special powers, and with training you could really be good at this and help many people." The person thinks "What? Me? Special powers? I never knew that!" It really makes him feel important. The person is made to feel he is under obligation to develop this hidden 'gift' for the blessing of others. In reality, it boosts your pride to think that you have a 'special gift' that others don't have. Once pride gets in there, you are led like a beast to the slaughter. Satan will give you just enough success to keep you coming back for more.

I am sad to tell you that some of the "New Theology" being preached in our pulpits today has the same effect; the person feels an astonishing exhilaration; he thinks he has never heard anything quite so wonderful. He is sure he has received a real blessing 'from the Lord', but in reality it fades away and leaves him more spiritually dead than ever before. Whole audiences experience this 'false sense of revival' together, and when it wears off, they have to look for some new excitement to keep them going. The hypnotic power of demons is involved in these false doctrines. Don't ever underestimate the hold it can take on your mind!

I hope you are able to see the implications of this phenomenon in relation to alternative medicine. It is an easy thing for Satan's angels to give a pleasant sensation, or wonderful sense of well being, as you receive one of these therapies, but unless you bring your life into harmony with God's real health laws, there can be no lasting benefit. People seem now to base their choices of whether or not to use a particular modality of treatment by whether or not it 'seems to work'. This is not a valid way to make your choice! Satan can make many things seem to 'work'.

Sometimes a particular therapist seems to have power to make us feel so good that we are sure his treatments are really helping us. But often all that happens is that we become more dependent and in the long run, little lasting benefit, if any, is had. Often much money is spent for nothing. I once took a series of shiatsu treatments from a man who was the head of a shiatsu school. I was under the impression that he had studied and worked with this all his life and because he was Japanese, of course, I felt he had learned from the 'Masters'. I later learned he had taken a couple treatments here in Canada from a white lady and then studied a relatively short time and set up his business. This 'great base of knowledge' that I was believing in, had no existence in fact at all.

We must make our choices based on what the Bible and inspired counsel has told us is acceptable therapy in the sight of the Lord. Remember, a treatment with God's blessing on it is worth far more than something under His curse! God has given us the laws of health, simple herbs, hydrotherapy and massage. Practices based on 'energy' theory, balancing of forces, eastern religions and such are not under His blessing even if they seem to be 'natural' to us. It is safer to err on the side of caution and have God's blessing than to take one step beyond the boundaries He has placed and so lose it. Without God, there are 'no batteries included' and even though effects might be experienced, no lasting good can come of it and Satan may use it as the doorway to come in and destroy your soul and others through your influence.

"Angels of God will preserve his people while they walk in the path of duty; but there is no assurance of such protection for those who deliberately venture upon Satan's ground"

"In the name of Christ I would address his professed followers: Abide in the faith which you have received from the beginning. "Shun profane and vain babblings." [2 TIM. 2:16.]

Instead of putting your trust in witchcraft, have faith in the living God. Cursed is the path that leads to Endor or to Ekron. The feet will stumble and fall that venture upon this forbidden ground. There is a God in Israel, with whom is deliverance for all who are oppressed. Righteousness is the foundation of his throne.

"There is danger in departing in the least from the Lord's instruction. When we deviate from the plain path of duty, a train of circumstances will arise that seems irresistibly to draw us farther and farther from the right. Needless intimacies with those who have no respect for God will seduce us ere we are aware. The fear of offending worldly friends will deter us from expressing our gratitude to God, or acknowledging our dependence upon him." Christian Temperance and Bible Hygiene: Consulting Spiritualist Physicians, pg. 115

Realize that these practitioners of occult based therapies, yoga, martial arts and so on, often have demons backing them and the hypnotic power involved can deceive any one who puts himself in their sphere of influence. I know of many times when God protected me so that such power was not able to take hold of me; but please don't feel that it is safe to investigate such things and that God will protect you while you satisfy your curiosity. There have been people who just get slightly involved with these things and they are swept away and never recover. We had a man in Advent history named Moses Hull. He thought he could play with the devil's fire and debate and socialize with spiritualists! He was rescued by the brethren but later Satan got to his pride and he went back—never to recover again.

I don't know how I came out—by God's incredible mercy is all I can say. God plucked me from the fire; He opened my eyes and led me out step by step. I did one thing when I got into Yoga and such practises; it may have been what allowed God to pluck me from Satan's fist. I was taught I was to choose a Guru, and to follow him completely in my training. I thought a lot about this, and then I chose Jesus! I now know that was an insult to Him in a way, but I know He accepted me as His student and He led me out of it! If I would have chosen a man, I feel for sure, I would have perished. Oh what a loving Saviour we have! Patient beyond anything we can imagine.

Some point out that the Spirit of Prophecy talks about 'electric currents' in body and brain and so they feel that this verifies the 'energy balancing' theories. Well, it must be noted what things God showed us affect those currents, and that if such therapies were important, God could easily have directed us to them instead of what He did give us.

Temperance: "The brain nerves which communicate with the entire system are the only medium through which Heaven can communicate to man and affect his inmost life. Whatever disturbs the circulation of the electric currents in the nervous system lessens the strength of the vital powers, and the result is a deadening of the sensibilities of the mind." Testimonies, vol. 2, pg. 347.

"...His Spirit, operating upon the heart, has acted like an electric battery, arousing the apparently benumbed faculties to vigorous and persevering action. ..." RC pg. 300

"Physical inaction lessens not only mental but moral power. The brain nerves that connect with the whole system are the medium through which heaven communicates with man and affects the inmost life. Whatever hinders the circulation of the electric current in the nervous system, thus weakening the vital powers and lessening mental susceptibility, makes it more difficult to arouse the moral nature." Education pg. 209

"These signs shall follow them that believe on Christ as a risen Saviour, who proclaimed, over the rent sepulcher of Joseph, "I am the resurrection, and the life." But if the workers neglect to link themselves in divine connection with God, the electric current of reviving, life-giving spiritual energy can not flow in full, rich streams to the people." Advent Review and Sabbath Herald, 07-19-98

What are we shown here that affects this current of electric energy? Why clearly the laws of health and contact with the power of God through His Spirit! So we have been given the best energy therapy on the planet and we certainly don't need to run after Satan to have something from him. Can't you see what his game is? By getting people looking to each other and rituals and therapies for energy, he keeps them from turning to God and plugging into Real Power!

Don't depend on feelings to show you guidelines as to what is right or wrong, or what you should or shouldn't do. Feelings and sensations and impressions and 'wonderful experiences' are all Satan's specialties to deceive, manipulate and lure man to destruction. It can be so real. You can be so sure you are seeing wonderful light when all is darkness! If you follow your own ideas or the ideas of any man, ancient or modern, you walk in the sparks of your own kindling, not in God's heavenly light and the Batteries are Not Included—there is no real power!

"There are many who are too exalted in their own opinion to receive this mystery. There is a science that the Most High would have these great men understand; but they can not see the Truth, the Life, the Light of the world. Human science is not divine enlightenment. Divine science is the demonstration of the Spirit of God, inspiring implicit faith in him. The men of the world suppose this faith to be beneath the notice of their great and intelligent minds, something too low to give attention to; but here they make a great mistake. It is altogether too high for their human intelligence to reach." Advent Review and Sabbath Herald, 07-18-99

Dear ones, don't leave God's table, where on are heaped all the treasures of eternity and the universe, to seek for scraps of truth in Satan's dumpster. Everything worth having has already been given to us. God will give you much more; wonderful heartfelt Joy and Peace through His Word and in harmony with His truth. The security of belonging to Jesus, who loves us, is better than any of Satan's counterfeits. Take God's inspired writings, pray for guidance and ask God for the Holy Spirit to be your personal Teacher—Your Master. (He never rejects a student!) Bring to Him whatever questions you have and allow Him to lead you to the answers.

Satan is a liar and a deceiver; he gives us the idea that there are a lot of good things to be had out in the world. When I say world, I am referring to outside, away from God, pagan, devilish. He likes us to think that there are things that, although we know that they are not fully true, we can study these things and we can separate the good part from the evil. Then we will be greatly blessed by them.

I could probably show you articles that I had written a few years back advocating that very concept. I thought people were very narrow and bigoted when they would refuse to study such things saying they were from the devil. There was really a lot of good in these things and we could be greatly benefited by studying them. I know differently now, but it has taken a while for me to learn it and I can only wonder at the incredible patience and graciousness of our Heavenly Father, who lets us run, when we are determined to do so, through all the manure piles and all the garbage heaps of worldly wisdom, until we finally realize that there is nothing good out there that He does not already have all fresh and clean on the banquet table for us.

When Eve ate of the tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, she obtained knowledge but not of good and evil; she only obtained the evil because she already had everything that was good! Eve was led to doubt God's goodness because she felt something was withheld from her that she needed to have. When she ate of the tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, she mixed evil in with the good that God had already given her. The only thing that God had withheld from His children was the knowledge of evil. Evil doesn't bring any goodness; it is a destroyer and brings sickness and death. Adam & Eve are not here with us today because they are dead. Millions of others are dead; why are they dead? Not because of the good that God gave them, but because of the evil that they were determined to have.

Satan comes to the elect with his spiritualistic based 'therapies'; he starts with things backed up in our health reform message and then mixes in a bit of poison. It is interesting to note that when the Israelites apostatized, it was always by adding something from the heathen that wasn't really forbidden by God and seemed to have good in it, but it led minds away from the firm foundation and eventually more and more heathen things came to be seen as 'having a lot of good in them' and before you know it, it didn't even seem wrong to them to offer their children to idols! It has always worked the same way and then it has been followed by the ones who accept the so-called 'advanced ideas', condemning and persecuting those who stand firm for God's truth as being backward, straight-laced and fanatical.
